FELICIA PENZELL WEBER
JEWISH COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL

Mission Statement

The Weber School prepares its students for success in college and in life, inspiring them to be knowledgeable, thinking, responsible Jewish adults, by weaving together:

- The pursuit of academic excellence;
- A commitment to Jewish values, the Jewish people and Israel; and
- A responsibility to serve our community and improve our world.

Academic Program

Academic Expectations

The Weber School is a college preparatory school offering a challenging, well-rounded and integrated program of secular and Jewish Studies studies, activities, the arts, and athletics. In our school's uncompromising commitment to academic excellence, students are expected to come to classes fully prepared, to participate actively, and to seek help and support as needed.

Parents are encouraged to actively support the school in achieving academic goals by contacting the teachers through email or phone when there are academic concerns and by supporting their child's ownership of his or her learning.

Student Academic Reports

Students receive four (4) formal progress reports per year. Additionally, narrative comments for each student are included at the end of semester progress reports (December and June). Students receive letter grades in each of their courses, as outlined in the grading scale, and only the final course grade appears on a student's official transcript.

Evaluation of Student Performance

Teachers evaluate the performance of all students assigned to their classes according to the School's published grading scale. Each course syllabus contains specific information regarding how a student's grade is calculated.

Grading Scale

Students may be expected to request original transcripts from the former school, especially for College Admissions purposes.

Valedictorian/Salutatorian Determination

The selection of Valedictorian and Salutatorian for the graduating class will be determined at the end of first semester each year. Only those grades recorded on the official Weber transcript will be used in the determination process.

Academic Review

Students who earn a “C-” or below at the end of a grading period must schedule meetings with appropriate teachers to devise an academic improvement plan. Parents play a vital role in the success of students in this situation and should seek ways to engage with their children in working toward their improvement. Toward this end, parents will receive a copy of the academic improvement plan, which must be signed by the parent and student and returned to the appropriate Grade Level Dean.

Students who receive two “D”s or an “F” in any given semester are placed on Academic Review. When on Academic Review, the Grade Level Dean and Principal will conduct a meeting with the student and his or her parents to structure the expectations that the student must meet by the end of the next grading period. Students on Academic Review will be closely monitored by the Grade Level Deans. Students who end two consecutive semesters on Academic Review will be reviewed by faculty and administration as to their ability to succeed and continue at the school.

Master Schedule

The master schedule is an AB schedule that rotates every day of the week including Fridays. There are eight blocks of classes. Four blocks meet each day which may include a morning program, as well as lunch every day.

Every ten days each block will have met five times. In other words, a block (one class) will have three class periods (meeting times) one week and will have two class periods (meeting times) two weeks.

Graduation Requirements

In order to graduate, every Weber student must take the equivalent of at least 28 year-long academic courses. Every Weber student, before he or she graduates, must take four years of classes (or the equivalent) in the following subjects:

Subject	Required Classes	Req. Class 1	Req. Class 2	Req. Class 3	Req. Class 4	Req. Class 5
English	4	Grammar, Comp., and Lit.	World Lit & Comp	Amer. Lit & Comp./AP Lang & Comp	Lit. Journeys/AP Lit.
Mathematics	4	Algebra I/unless M.S. credit received	Geometry	Algebra II	Pre-Calculus	Calculus(AP avail.) Statistics(AP avail.)/Finite Math
Science	4	Biology	Chemistry	Physics(AP avail.) or Physical Sci.	Elective Choice, inc. AP options
Social Studies	4	Geography/Humanities	World History(AP avail.)	U.S. History(AP avail.)	Government (AP avail.) (½)	Economics (AP avail.) (½)
World Languages	3	Students must take three years of the same language (Hebrew or Spanish)

In addition, students must take a total of eight classes in Jewish Studies and/or Hebrew. Every student must take at least one year of Hebrew and must take three years of either Spanish or Hebrew. Students must also complete a minimum of one year of Fine Arts (1 credit).

Weber also has a physical education requirement that can be fulfilled through participation in one of our sports teams or through participation in outside activities with approval by the Principal.

Questions about graduation requirements should be directed to the Principal.

Courses at Other Schools

Permission to take a course at another school/college must be obtained from the Principal, and such courses must meet all SAIS/SACS standards.

Independent Study

In rare circumstances, a course may be offered on an independent study basis. Independent study courses must be approved by the Principal and meet all SAIS/SACS standards.

Course Placement

Weber's goal is to place students in those courses most closely aligned with their academic strengths and interests. For those academic courses offered at various levels, including College Preparatory, Honors, and Advanced Placement, teachers will make recommendations for a student's placement based upon mastery of skills in the current course, previous grades, work ethic, and any prerequisites determined by individual departments. If a student chooses to pursue a level without a teacher's recommendation, the student will discuss the pros and cons of this choice with the teacher, Content Area Dean, and Grade Level Dean and will either agree to the placement in the higher level with its attendant challenges or develop goals to achieve the higher level in the following school year.

Drop/Add Policy

Students have ten (10) school days into the semester to drop and/or add elective classes. A change in a course level may be initiated by a student or teacher, depending on circumstance. Any course level change must be approved by the Content Area Dean and will be communicated to the appropriate Grade Level Dean and Dean of College Advising as necessary .

Examinations

The administration of semester and final exams is based upon course objectives and curricular goals. Each department determines its semester and final exam policies, and information regarding exams, as well as other means of assessing students, is clearly outlined in the course syllabus. Semester and final exams may count no more than 25% of a student's average in the course.

Semester and final exams are scheduled through the Registrar's office, and exam dates and times are published on the school's website. In rare cases, a parent may request an early exam to accommodate extenuating circumstances, such as attending a summer program or sibling's graduation; early exam requests must be approved by the Principal.

In the week prior to scheduled exams, students are not expected to complete major tests, projects, or essays.

Students in 9th through 11th grades may leave campus during designated breaks within the published exam schedule, only if prior, written consent has been provided by the student's parent/guardian.

Senior Exams

During the exam days in May, seniors are not expected to attend other classes. They are excused each day after completing the designated exams.

Advanced Placement Exams

Advanced placement exams take place in May of each school year and are administered according to the guidelines set forth by the College Board. All students enrolled in Advanced Placement (AP) courses are expected to take the AP exam for those courses. The College Board determines AP exam fees, and students must submit their fee payments to the Registrar in order to sit for their AP exam(s). Students do not have to attend classes on AP exam dates but are responsible for completing any assigned work.

Homework

Homework is driven by curricular goals and objectives. Course homework expectations are listed in the course syllabus. Students should not expect homework assignments, projects, or tests due on the day immediately following a Jewish holiday or school-sponsored activities such as Shabbaton, Winter Formal, Grade Trips and others indicated by the Principal.

Testing Policy

Students may be assigned a maximum of two major tests or major assignments such as projects on one day. Tests and other major assignments or assessments may not be scheduled on the day immediately following a Jewish holiday or school-sponsored activities such as Shabbaton, Winter Formal, Grade Trips and others indicated by the Principal. Quizzes, homework, and class work may be given on any day and are not bound by this policy.

All tests and major assignments are posted on the Global Test Calendar. Teachers may also employ other means of communication with students such as: Weber email, the course syllabus, and written or verbal communication. Students who discover a test conflict are instructed to report this to their classroom teachers and Grade Level Dean.

If inclement weather or some other reason causes cancellation of class on the day of a scheduled test, students are expected to be prepared to take the test during the first class following the cancellation.

Habits of Work

Because both academic knowledge and work habits are essential for success in learning and in life, Weber has an established Habits of Work (HoW) grading category across all courses. To this end, each teacher will include “Habits of Work” (HoW) as a separate assessment category to be described in the course syllabus and reported through regular entries in the gradebook. HoW will constitute 10% of the course grade and will be assessed relative to the following essential work habit categories:

- Punctuality and Attendance: Because consistent attendance and on-time arrival for class are instrumental to learning, points may be deducted for unexcused tardies, unexcused absences, abuse of a structured class break, or “skipping.” A third unexcused tardy or any instance of “skipping” will also be referred to a Grade Level Dean for follow up.
- Meeting Deadlines: Because a student’s ability to meet deadlines and submit work by established due dates are indicative of time-management and preparedness, points may be deducted for late work.
- Academic Citizenship: Students are expected to play an active role within the learning environment by following classroom norms, contributing to respectful dialogue and debate, and maintaining a high degree of academic integrity and honesty. Any serious infractions or patterns of inappropriate behavior should be referred to a Grade Level Dean for follow up.

Make-Up Work

Make-up work is the student’s responsibility. It is the student’s responsibility to consult with each teacher to discover the work missed and to immediately schedule a time frame for the work to be completed with the teacher. After an excused absence, a student will normally have one day for each day excused to make up work, but a teacher’s syllabus will indicate the specific expectations and deadline for make-up work. If an absence is predetermined, the student is expected to do the majority of work ahead of time.

In cases of extended illness, parents should notify the Grade Level Dean to develop a plan for student work and attendance.

Loss of Credit

Any student who earns a transcript grade of F will not receive credit for that course. The student must make-up the work in a summer school program at a SAIS/SACS accredited institution or through a course of study approved by the Department Chair and Principal. It is highly recommended that students who earn a grade of D repeat the course in an approved summer school program or receive tutoring by an approved educator. Official transcripts indicating the student's performance must be sent directly from the summer school to the Registrar.

Students who have excessive absences (ten or more) during each semester, whether excused or unexcused, in a course may not receive credit for that course. The only exception is for long term, documented medical circumstances as approved by the Principal in coordination with the Grade Level Dean.

Parent/Student/Teacher Conference

A conference to discuss a student's performance may be initiated by the student, parent, or teacher throughout the school year. The student should be present at the conference, unless there are particular circumstances that warrant holding a conference in the student's absence. The Grade Level Deans may also schedule a conference to discuss a student's progress or to develop an intervention plan for a student. Questions regarding a student's performance or status in a course should be directed to the classroom teacher.

Standardized Testing

The Weber School participates in the testing programs of the College Board. In October, tenth and eleventh grade students take the Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarships Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). Scores of eleventh graders are used in the annual selection process of the National Merit Scholarship Competition. The PSAT test is administered at The Weber School.

Students should consult with the College Counselor to plan the most appropriate time to complete college admissions tests such as the SAT and ACT. All SAT and ACT test dates are on the school calendar as well as the websites for College Board and ACT.

Summer School

Any student who attends summer school to take courses that satisfy The Weber School's graduation requirements must have prior approval of the Principal. Failure to procure prior approval can result in Weber not accepting the course for credit. The failure of a required course must be corrected by passing the same course or an approved substitute either at a SAIS/SACS accredited school during the summer following the failure. Private tutoring is not permitted for credit. Students who make a D in a course are strongly encouraged to seek tutoring during the summer to address deficiencies in a course. All expenses are incurred by the student's family.

College Advising

The College Advising Department administers a comprehensive program that includes guidance through the college application process as well as administration of standardized tests. Additionally, the Dean of College Advising works closely with the Grade Level Deans and students to provide academic planning and course scheduling support.

Formal preparation for applying to colleges begins in January of the junior year, and the College Advising Department works closely with students and parents to move the process forward. We offer a highly individualized program that details the college application process. Students participate in individual and group meetings where they learn the steps of applying to college. Parents are engaged and informed about their students' search, and we work together to create a list of colleges and universities based on the student's academic profile and interest, as well as other factors important to the family.

The Dean of College Advising collaborates with the ninth and tenth Grade Level Dean to create benchmark programs designed for students to gain self-awareness and self-discovery leading to planning for college. Additionally, parent coffees across grade levels will be hosted to introduce different topics of the college process.

The College Advising Department strongly encourages students to research and visit college campuses. Summer visits prior to the senior year and during the fall are an effective way of determining if a college is a good fit. Students may also benefit from visiting a college during late spring in their junior year. Students are not expected to visit every college to which they plan to apply; some visits can take place once students have been notified of admission decisions. Students are encouraged to plan college visits so that they are least disruptive to their school work. Seniors are permitted three days of excused absence for college visits.

The College Advising Department provides extensive support throughout the application, acceptance and decision-making phases of the senior year.

College Admission representatives visit Weber to learn about our school and to present information about their college. Juniors and seniors are encouraged to attend these meetings provided they have their teacher's permission and have followed the protocol set by the Dean of College Advising.

College Advising Policy of Disclosure

The Weber School is required to report any changes in a student's academic or behavioral record occurring after the application has been sent. The Weber policy of reporting disciplinary information to a college aligns with the Principles of Good Practice advocated by the National Association of College Admission Counselors (NACAC).

When completing college forms, The Weber School has the responsibility of accurately responding to all questions governing a student's academic and behavioral records.

Textbooks

Textbooks are the property of the Weber School and must be treated with care. Lost, damaged, or stolen textbooks must be reported to the teacher immediately. Before a replacement can be issued students must pay the bookkeeper the full cost of a new text. Additionally, students are responsible for returning textbooks at the end of the year to teachers. Failure to return textbooks at the end of exam week in June will result in the family incurring the cost as determined by the Registrar. Department Chairs will email students and their families at the end of the school year in June indicating the cost of the text. Families should not replace the text by purchasing a used book online or any other means. A student's grades and transcript will be held until the financial obligation has been met.

Transcripts

The Weber School will send an official transcript to the institution of the student's choice provided his/her financial account is clear and the appropriate form has been signed by a parent and given to the College Counselor or the Registrar. Families can request an unofficial transcript from the Registrar.

Withholding Grades

Students must clear all outstanding financial obligations prior to receiving their grades and/or transcripts.

Grade Level Deans

Working alongside the School Counselor, Learning Specialist, and classroom teachers, the Grade Level Deans' primary responsibility is to monitor and support the academic, social, and emotional welfare of all students. Grade Level Deans build connections within our community by referring parents to appropriate school personnel and following up on those referrals. Grade Level Deans also provide valuable information and clarification regarding Weber's academic offerings, policies, and procedures, striving to build an atmosphere of shared concern and collaboration with parents. When appropriate, Grade Level Deans will initiate and/or facilitate conferences, closely monitor student academic progress, address conduct concerns, and offer individual guidance to students.

Peer Leadership

Peer Leadership is an orientation and transition program that welcomes new students and makes them feel comfortable throughout their first year at Weber. Built upon the belief that students can help students succeed, the Peer Leadership program is coordinated by the School Counselor. As positive role models, Peer Leaders are motivators, leaders and mentors who guide the new students to discover what it takes to be successful during the transition to Weber. Peer Leadership's goal is to provide Weber with a structure in which students build connections with each other.

Learning Center

The Learning Center provides students with an opportunity to receive additional support and enrichment, as well as refine study/organizational skills. Student assignment and/or participation in Learning Center instruction is based on academic need, as determined by recommendations outlined within a student's psychoeducational evaluation or as part of an academic intervention plan. Students who are assigned to the Learning Center are required to be punctual and complete assignments.

Study Hall

Study Hall is a class period that meets for the same amount of time as an academic class for the purpose of quiet study, library use, or computer lab use. Generally, only students with demonstrable academic needs or those enrolled in co-curricular courses in X block are granted study halls. During these study halls, students in 9-11 grades are assigned to a designated room under teacher supervision. Expectations for attendance and conduct are the same as for any class. Seniors who have a study hall must adhere to all conditions outlined within "Senior Privileges" section of this handbook.

Subject Area Assistance

Faculty academic help is available to students during teachers' specified office hours in X Block. Students are responsible for scheduling help sessions with teachers. X Blocks are a time for students to make up missed work, to clarify assignments, or to receive further explanation, enrichment, or extra help. Depending on the needs of all students requesting help, this time may be individual or small group. Students may also receive study/organizational skills assistance in the Learning Center during X Blocks.

Outside Tutoring

Faculty members offer academic assistance to students during office hours; however, a student or family may decide that additional support from an independent tutor is necessary. In such circumstances, Weber will provide a list of community tutors, or the family may choose to secure such services independently. Weber faculty members may not provide tutoring services to current Weber students.

Instructional/Testing Accommodations

All Weber students, regardless of course level/schedule, may qualify for consideration for additional instructional accommodations under the following guidelines:

- Parents must submit a recent (dated within 3 years of submission) psychoeducational evaluation, which includes both cognitive and achievement measures, performed by a fully credentialed evaluator for review by Weber's Learning Specialist.
- Specific, written recommendations for the requested instructional accommodation(s) must be included in the evaluation.
- Weber offers, as approved by the Learning Specialist, the following instructional accommodations:
 - Extended time on tests, quizzes, and exams.
 - Preferential seating within the classroom
 - Use of a laptop/computer for essay writing on tests and exams
 - Use of a personal laptop for classroom notes (contingent upon classroom teacher approval)
 - Other testing/instructional accommodations, as appropriate and reasonable within a college preparatory curriculum

Weber does not offer courses with modified curricula.

Accommodations Eligibility for The College Board & ACT Testing

Students needing accommodations for standardized testing and college admissions tests must apply for those accommodations through the College Board or ACT. Written approval from the College Board is necessary for a student to receive accommodations, such as extended time, on any College Board exam (PSAT, SAT I, SAT II, AP). The ACT also has a formal approval process, and students must complete the appropriate applications for accommodations on the ACT exam. The Learning Specialist is available to assist students with the special testing applications for both the College Board and ACT.

Attendance

In order to create a vibrant school community and a serious learning environment, it is important that students attend all classes and school activities and arrive on time. Students are expected to attend class every day unless they have an excused absence. When absent, the student is responsible for keeping abreast of all course material.

The achrayut (responsibility) of students is to attend regularly and be on time. It expresses itself in one's own learning, in the effect on classmates and teachers, and in skills needed as an adult. Students' responsibility is both to themselves, as well as to others, their peers and their teachers

As a member of the Southern Association of Independent Schools (SAIS) and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS), The Weber School must provide a specified number of instructional days. Therefore, students must fulfill their obligation to attend class regularly or face possible loss of academic credit.

Regularity in attendance and diligent application to study are essential to a student's learning and achievement. Students should come ready for class with all necessary books and materials. The school day begins at 8:30 AM Monday through Friday; morning X block runs from 7:45 AM until 8:25 AM. All students who arrive late to school should report to the front desk.

Excused absences include illness, doctor's appointments, approved college visits, and exceptional family functions (e.g. wedding, bar or bat mitzvah, funeral, graduation). Procedure for excused absences, delayed arrival, and early dismissals are as follows:

- A parent must call extension 302 between 7:00 – 8:30 AM. each day a student is absent. The parent should provide the following information: name, grade and reason for absence.
- If a student is absent from school due to illness for 3 or more consecutive days, then a doctor's note must be submitted in order for the absence to be considered excused.
- Requests for delayed arrival, early dismissal, or future absence should be made in writing by the parent to The Grade Level Dean. Such requests should be received at least one day in advance. All requests must include a telephone number at which the parent can be reached, student's name, grade, and reason for request. Normally, no student will be granted early dismissal without a written request from a parent.
- Any time a student leaves school early, arrives late, or returns to school after an appointment, he or she must report to the front desk to sign out or sign in. Additionally, a doctor's note is required to verify the student's absence for a medical, dental, and/or therapy appointment. Failure to do so may result in an incorrect attendance record for the student as well as disciplinary action.
- In case of illness during the school day, the student should go to the front desk after informing his/her teacher. The receptionist will contact the parent.
- Students who are absent from school for any reason may not practice or participate in afternoon or evening activities on that day.
- College Visits: Students should plan college visitations during late second semester of the Junior year, the summer before their senior year, and during their senior year. Three class days will be excused. Parents should submit a written request to The Grade Level Dean.
- The Weber School reserves the right to lower a grade or deny credit for a course if a student is absent 10 or more times in one semester.
- Students who have missed class are responsible for all assignments.
- Anticipated absences should be arranged in advance. Parents should verify all unanticipated absences. Absences are considered unexcused until the parent notifies the Grade Level Dean.

Absence on Exam Days/Early Exam Requests

Attendance on exam days is required, and students are expected to take exams according to the date and times of the exam schedule. Students are accountable for all course material as specified by the teacher.

Absences on exam days will be approved for illness or a family emergency. After consulting with the Grade Level Dean, the Principal will determine if the request is approved. Once the request is approved, the student and Grade Level Dean will work together to arrange alternate date(s) and time(s) to take the missed exam(s).

Requests for early exams due to extenuating circumstances, such as training for employment or a significant family event, must be submitted to the Grade Level Dean a month in advance. If the request is approved, the student must accept responsibility for learning all material a teacher has indicated will be on an exam. The Grade Level Dean will consult with the Registrar to outline an alternate exam schedule for the student.

Absences Due to Family Vacation

We understand that there may be a rare times when family plans require travel on scheduled school days. We urge you to check the school calendar before making travel plans. If a student is going to be absent for a family vacation or simcha (a joyous occasion such as a wedding or Bar Mitzvah), it is essential to notify the Grade Level Dean, in writing, at least two weeks in advance. The student must take full responsibility for making up missed work and turning in assignments before or on the due date. Though faculty will do what they can to help a students get missed material, teachers should not be asked to accommodate vacation plans by providing additional materials or individual tutoring. Students must notify all their teachers in writing at least one week in advance and make arrangements for getting missed assignments and turning in work.

Class Attendance

In the event of unexcused absences from academic commitments, students earn a zero for any missed tests, quizzes or written assignments. Five or more unexcused absences in a semester could result in a loss of all credit for the course.

If a student knows in advance that he or she will be absent from class, a he or she should speak with the teacher to be sure to get the assignment for the day he or she will miss. Even if a student tells all of their teachers, it is still necessary for the parent to call school (see Absence Guidelines, above). A call or note of permission does not automatically qualify the absence as excused.

Late for Class/Tardiness

All students are expected to arrive on time to school and to class as outlined in our school calendar and daily class schedule. Tardiness to class is disruptive to the learning environment and negatively impacts learning. The Weber School's daily schedule provides a reasonable amount of time for students to move from one class block to another without arriving late. Any student late to class three or more times will be referred to the Grade Level Dean for disciplinary follow up. Policies regarding tardiness to class are outlined very specifically in each course syllabus, and students and parents should review these policies thoroughly.

Cutting Classes

Cutting class, the intentional or negligent missing of a class, is an unexcused absence. The student will not have the opportunity to make up work nor participate in any afternoon or evening activities. The student will receive a zero in the class and will be referred to the Grade Level Dean for disciplinary follow up.

Inclement Weather Policy

In the event of a full day school closure, teachers will post an independent student assignment on Haiku for those courses that would normally be in session on the day of the closure. Additionally, all teachers will convene a one hour "distance support session" in which they will be available via email to help students with any newly posted assignments and/or to answer questions regarding previously assigned work. Information regarding assignments and teacher help sessions will be published via Haiku.

School Closing Information

If school is cancelled for the day because of inclement weather or any other type of emergency, notification will be on the television stations 11 Alive, WSB-TV Channel 2 and Fox 5 Atlanta. A notification will be sent to you via phone, text and email, a message will be recorded on the school's main telephone number, and notification will be posted on the school website: www.weberschool.org.

Student Life, Athletics, Welfare and Conduct

Field Trips, Special Programs, and School Dances

Field Trips, special programs, and school dances are an integral part of the school program. Students are expected to participate in required class trips; absences from these programs are considered the same as an absence from class. School-sponsored field trips count as a full day of attendance. However, if the field trip does not require the entire school day, students are expected to attend classes that would normally meet. Students are responsible for turning in all assignments for each class due on the day of the field trip.

School expectations for proper behavior and address remain in effect during all field trips, special programs, and school dances; the school reserves the right to determine student eligibility to participate. Permission forms are required for all field trips and non-Weber visitors at school functions must be formally approved by the Grade Level Dean (including guests at school dances) in writing.

Weber students participating in the Senior Israel/Poland trip are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct of the Alexander Muss Institute for Israel Education as well as adhere to all expectations and policies of The Weber School.

Chagim (Holidays)

During the school year we will sometimes have special programming around the time of the Jewish holidays and other significant American holidays, emphasizing meaningful understanding and celebration of these days.

Shabbatonim (All-school retreats)

Shabbatonim will occur during the school year on specified dates. This thematic retreat incorporates a communal Shabbat experience and includes students, faculty, and staff.

Eligibility for Co-curricular Activities

Students who participate in co-curricular activities are representatives of The Weber School. They are expected to maintain high standards of academic performance, personal conduct, and attendance.

A student must be in school or in a school sponsored activity all day in order to participate in after school or evening activities, unless excused by the Grade Level Dean. If a student has been issued an unexcused lateness, the student will not be permitted to participate in that day's co-curricular activities. Students may not miss class to attend co-curricular activities unless they have received advance permission from teacher(s) of the class(es) they would miss.

Students who have been the subject of disciplinary action may be excluded from roles of leadership within co-curricular groups as determined by the Principal or Head of School.

Student Organizations and Clubs

The school has a strong tradition of accommodating and supporting various student interests. Students who wish to form a new club are asked to consult with the Principal.

Tikkun Olam

Tikkun Olam, literally "Repair of the World," is the Jewish concept of commitment to social action and justice. Our commitment to a serious and thoughtful Tikkun Olam program is consistent with our goal of preparing our students for knowledgeable, thinking, and responsible Jewish adulthood.

Eligibility for Interscholastic Teams

Students who participate in interscholastic competitions sanctioned by the Georgia High School Association (GHSAA) are representatives of The Weber School. They are expected to maintain high standards of academic performance, personal conduct, and attendance.

Coaches and moderators whose activities fall under the governance of the GHSAA are responsible for monitoring students' academic eligibility. Moderators and coaches of activities not governed by GHSAA may establish and maintain eligibility requirements (academic, behavioral, participatory) with prior approval of the Athletic Director and the Principal.

A Weber student participating in any activity (athletic or otherwise) must meet the stipulated expectations (academic and disciplinary) which are specific to the activity.

Students involved in interscholastic teams who do not work to their full potential in the classroom, whose behavior is inappropriate, or who have poor attendance jeopardize their membership on the team. A student who receives one grade of an F at a marking period (mid-semester, semester) will not be able to participate in athletic competitions or practices. A student who made one grade of a D will not be able to participate in athletic competitions but will be able to participate in practices. Eligibility may be reinstated after the student has demonstrated sufficient academic improvement where the student no longer has a grade of an F or D. The Athletic Director will determine the student-athlete's reinstatement. Students may miss class for an athletic contest if they have received advance permission from teacher(s) of the class(es) they will miss. Students may only leave early at the time indicated by the Athletic Director on the weekly athletic communication.

If, in the judgment of the Head of School, Principal, or sponsor of the activity (as indicated by mid-semester progress reports, semester reports, teacher observations, and/or parent-student conferences), the student is not meeting the standards required, the student may be declared ineligible. In addition, for serious disciplinary matters or poor representation of The Weber School during competition, the Head of School or Principal may also revoke a student's eligibility.

A student must be in school or in a school sponsored activity in order to participate in after school or evening activities (athletic competition/practice), unless excused by Grade Level Dean. If a student has been issued an unexcused lateness without a proper note (as determined by the front office), the student will not be permitted to participate in that day's athletic competition/practice. An early release from school for a student to participate in an athletic activity is an "excused" absence from class. Prior to the absence, the student is responsible for arranging a time with the teacher to make up any and all work missed.

The Weber tradition has been to win or lose with honor. We desire to field champions at the varsity level but only by maintaining the values our school and community. At the sub-varsity level we strive to develop champions and teach the fundamental skills of the sport as well as the life lessons of sportsmanship, responsibility and teamwork. Philosophically, Weber athletic teams operate under a "no-cut" policy which allows any Weber student to participate as a member of a team, as long as students are committed to growing as players and young adults. Our goal is always to add teams as opposed to "cutting" players from a team. Any student who adheres to the academic and behavioral expectations outlined in the Student and Parent Handbook and who is committed to the tenets of great sportsmanship will be allowed to participate in the Weber Athletic program. In order to ensure individualized attention and skill development, allow students to participate at the appropriate skill level and to maintain the competitive integrity of our program, students will be placed on the appropriate team level, as determined by the coaching staff. In order to maximize access and equity for all student athletes, we will offer, or work to offer, 3 levels of play:

Varsity

The Varsity teams consist of our most skilled, experienced, and competitive student athletes, regardless of grade level. Varsity players also meet the position needs of the team, regardless of grade level. Varsity players represent the highest levels of skill, effort, sportsmanship, and teamwork. Varsity level players must make a commitment to attend all practices and games. Playing time is determined by practice attendance/effort, attitude, team-work, style of play, skill level, and game situation.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity teams are our upper level "developmental teams." The goal of the Junior Varsity teams is to develop talent for future varsity participation and give students an opportunity to participate on a team. The Junior Varsity teams focus on fundamental skill development, teamwork and sportsmanship. Junior Varsity teams are committed to developing the overall skill, conditioning, and experience level of all players, regardless of grade level.

9th Grade/C Team

These teams will be added as needed and necessary. The 9th Grade/C Team is our 1st level of developmental teams. These teams are designed for students with little or no background in the sport. Participation and skill development will be emphasized in order to allow each student a chance to participate in a team sport and to grow as an athlete.

Health and Medications

The school does not have medical or health facilities. If students are ill they are expected to remain at home. If a student becomes ill at school, parents will be notified, and arrangements should be made to get the student home. In case of an emergency, the school will call 911 and attempt to reach parents immediately. Parents are required to complete a Medical Emergency Information

Form providing the name of the student's physician and information about the family medical insurance in case a parent or designated contact cannot be reached. Students who take medication during the school day, even EpiPens or inhalers, must have a permission slip signed by their doctor on file. Parents must also notify the school of any food allergies or allergies to medication for their children, as well as provide information regarding any special dietary needs.

Kashrut (Jewish Dietary Laws)

The system of kashrut enumerated in the Torah and Rabbinic texts seeks to bring an enhanced sense of dignity and sanctity to the way we prepare, cook and eat our food. To create a common ground where all students, family, faculty and staff will feel comfortable, The Weber School's kashrut policies pertain to food for both communal and personal consumption. If there are any questions concerning this policy, please contact Rabbi Ed Harwitz's office before serving it at school or at any school sponsored event.

Food for Communal Consumption

Weber has adopted the standard of the Atlanta Kashrut Commission as the standard of kashrut for food served in and or by the school. Any food or beverage served by Weber during school or at an event sponsored by the school must have certified kashrut supervision. These rules will also apply to food prepared in the Weber kitchen or sold in school vending machines. No food cooked in an individual home may be served.

Food for Personal Consumption

With sensitivity to our school environment, students, faculty and staff or guests may not bring meat, poultry, shellfish or products derived from meat, poultry, shellfish on school grounds or to school sponsored events or field trips. All food brought to the school for lunch, snacks or other personal consumption will be either dairy or "pareve" (defined as neither dairy nor meat products).

Tefillah/Enrichment

The School is committed to providing rich and varied opportunities for communal prayer. Students may choose to attend our various prayer minyans during the designated Tefillah block on Tuesdays. Additionally, holidays and other important events will be celebrated as a whole school. Should students choose not to participate in the offered prayer minyans, they must attend an enrichment session with an assigned teacher. Students may not congregate in areas other than their assigned enrichment sessions, during Tefillah/Enrichment blocks.

Kippot

The School appreciates that there are various practices regarding the wearing of kippot and encourages students to determine their own approach within the context of their family traditions and practices. Kippot will not be required, but a student's decision to wear or not wear a kippah will be a vehicle for appropriate discussion and learning consistent with the School's celebration of differences. Students may be required to wear kippot in certain minyanim (communal prayer groups).

Dress Code

Another standard of conduct involves our dress and personal comportment. During the school day and at school-sponsored activities, The Weber School expects students to dress in a manner befitting an educational setting. The school relies upon students and their parents to choose school clothing that reflects their best judgment. For the sake of clarity and consistency, however, the school suggests the following as guidelines.

Recommended Dress

- Tailored pants, jeans;
- Short or long sleeved polo shirts or turtlenecks;
- T-shirts and crew neck or v-neck sweaters;
- Shorts or walking shorts that extend through the mid-thigh.

Inappropriate Dress

- Shirts that are exceedingly tight, see through, spaghetti strap, or tank top or bare one's midriff;
- Oversized pants or jeans or tight fitting shorts, pants or jeans;
- Skirts shorter than mid-thigh or see through leggings that are not covered by a top that extends through the mid-thigh;
- Nylon running or athletic shorts;
- Clothing in a state of obvious disrepair;
- Clothing with statements or depictions that are obscene, violent, advocate violence, advocate or advertise smoking, drug, or alcohol use;
- Pajamas, soft slippers, or house shoes.

Should a student wear clothing or present himself/herself in a manner inconsistent with the principles or standards listed above, he or she should expect a member of the school faculty or staff to raise the issue and ask the student to fix his or her appearance as soon as possible, which may entail changing into school-owned attire retained by the Grade Level Deans. Should the student's appearance infringe upon these principles and standards on a second occasion, a student may be removed from class until the standard is met, and parents may be called to bring different or additional clothing to school.

Trips

When students are off the school premises for school trips and other activities such as school athletic events, they are not allowed to leave their off-campus premises without the knowledge and consent of an adult school chaperone.

Cell Phones and Personal Devices: Appropriate and Allowable Use

Although cell phones allow for almost instant access to a variety of information, they are, for the most part, a huge disruption and distraction to the learning environment. At Weber, students may use their cell phones:

- before the school day begins
- in between classes
- during lunch
- after school has been dismissed for the day

Cell phones should be turned off and placed in the classroom collection basket for the entirety of each class block (including class break time). A teacher may allow students brief use of their cell phones for time-limited educational activities; however, these exceptional circumstances are solely at the teacher's discretion and are subject to strict monitoring. Cell phones or other devices may not be used or visible during Tefillah or Kehillah. Students observed to be in violation of Weber's cell phone policy will have their cell phones collected by the teacher, who will then turn the cell phone into the appropriate Grade Level Dean. Students who have had their phones collected may pick up the phone from their Grade Level Dean at the end of the school day (2:45p). After a student's cell phone has been collected twice, he/she will lose the privilege of having a cell phone on campus, and a meeting with the student, parent, and the appropriate Grade Level Dean/Principal will be held.

Students may use their personal computers and laptops in class only under the close supervision of the teacher. Should such device usage become disruptive to the learning environment, the teacher may prohibit device usage at her/his discretion.

All school policies regarding harassment, bullying, inappropriate language, or disparaging remarks apply to any communications originating on Weber's campus, including those sent via personal cell phone or any other electronic device. Failure to adhere to these policies could result in disciplinary action.

Elevator

In general, elevators are for the use of faculty and staff only. Only students who submit a written note signed by a medical care professional or parent attesting to a medical necessity are permitted to use the elevator. Such correspondence should be forwarded to their Grade Level Dean. In addition, students may be given special permission by faculty or staff to use the elevators for specific purposes.

Faculty Areas

Students are not allowed to enter the faculty lounge, the faculty dining room, or the faculty break rooms.

Library Books

The library is open during normal school hours. All books should be returned by the date specified by the Media Specialist. Students are expected to pay for lost or damaged materials.

Lockers

Lockers are assigned to students for their convenience and the protection of their possessions but are the property of the School. Lockers and their contents may be inspected by the School for any reason. No students may "switch" lockers or store belongings in any locker but the one assigned to them. The inside of lockers may be decorated with appropriate material which can be fully removed at the end of the year. The School is not responsible for lost or stolen items.

Lunch

Students may eat during lunch time only and are expected to clean up after themselves. Additionally, students may only eat in designated areas, including: the cafeteria, the outdoor picnic area, or other first floor approved areas. If a student has a planned appointment with a faculty member, then, with the faculty member's approval, the student may eat in the designated meeting room and classroom. Weber provides a variety of meat and dairy lunch options for purchase, but students may bring a lunch from home providing it complies with the school's kashrut policy.

Use of Athletic Fields

If students want to use the soccer field or the baseball field at any time, they must receive permission from the Athletic Director.

Learner's Permit/Driver's License Policy

Georgia's Teenage and Adult Driver Responsibility Act (TAADRA) of 1997 requires that "local school systems certify that a student's attendance pattern and discipline record permits him or her to have a Georgia learner's permit or driver's license" When obtaining a permit or license, The Weber School must provide documentation that the student "is enrolled in and not under expulsion from a public or private school and has not had ten or more school days of unexcused absences in the current academic year or ten or more school days of unexcused absences in the previous academic year". If a student does not meet these requirements, the school is required to report such negligence to the state, which may result in the prevention of a student from obtaining a license or having a current permit/license suspended or revoked.

Leaving Campus

Students are not allowed to leave campus during the course of the day for any reason other than to participate in school sponsored activities or to attend approved off campus appointments. A student must have explicit written permission from a parent or guardian to leave campus. Students leaving and returning to campus with permission should sign in and out at the front desk. Any student leaving campus without permission will be referred to the Grade Level Dean or Principal and will be subject to possible disciplinary consequences.

Senior Privileges (Open Campus)

Seniors who have written permission on file with our administrative offices have open campus during scheduled study halls and/or lunch.

All seniors will be given a pass card that outlines their approved study hall blocks, and this card must be presented to the school receptionist for verification, prior to signing out of and into school. (Please note that replacement fees apply to all lost pass cards.) Seniors attempting to sign in/out during times other than their approved study halls or lunch will be referred to the Grade Level Dean for disciplinary follow-up. Additionally, Seniors who have missed Kehillah, special programming, or required grade level meetings will be considered tardy and must provide a valid excuse. Seniors may choose to be off campus during Tefillah/Enrichment blocks, unless otherwise notified by faculty. However, Seniors who choose to stay on campus during Tefillah/Enrichment blocks must remain in their assigned enrichment groups. A senior who accrues three unexcused tardies/absences within a semester will lose his/her senior privileges for the remainder of the semester.

General open campus protocols include:

- Seniors must present their pass card for verification before leaving campus and upon their return to school.
- All permissions from parents must be up to date and on file with the office. (Over the phone permission is not acceptable.)
- Leaving campus without permission will result in disciplinary consequences, including loss of senior privileges.
- Seniors will need parental permission to sign out for doctor appointments, illness, and other circumstances if those obligations fall outside of their approved study hall blocks.

Seniors choosing to remain on campus for their study hall blocks must remain in the approved senior area. Permission to leave the senior area must be obtained from the assigned room supervisor. With permission, seniors may go to the Media Center/Library, computer lab, or Learning Center. Seniors may not congregate in the Etz or locker areas. Seniors who do not comply with these stipulations are subject to disciplinary action, including the loss of all senior privileges.

Parking Lots

Students are required to have a Weber School parking decal to park in the designated student parking lot. Students who park in faculty parking spaces are subject to disciplinary action. Students are not allowed in the faculty or student parking lots during the school day, unless they have specific permission from a Grade Level Dean. Permission to park in designated handicapped parking spaces may be requested by submitting appropriate medical need documentation to the Grade Level Dean.

Student Welfare and Conduct

Kulanu (Respect for Community)

A motto of our school is drawn from the Book of Proverbs: “Educate a young person according to one’s distinct nature.” According to Rabbinic tradition, this statement charges a Jewish school with building an environment that regards education and ethical behavior as inseparable and interdependent.

Our hope is that our students not only excel at academics but also develop and display high levels of menschlikeit – qualities of respect, compassion, openness and good judgment. It is the intent and responsibility of the Weber School to provide a safe and secure environment conducive to learning and interacting with others. In order for meaningful learning to occur, it is important that members of the Weber School community understand standards for appropriate student conduct and comportment.

In general, the principle of kulanu is expressed when students maintain the following standards:

- Deal honestly and truthfully in all matters;
- Demonstrate respect for the common Jewish traditions that shape school life and of the diversity of belief and practice represented within our school and general community;
- Act in a considerate and friendly manner towards classmates, faculty, staff and guests of the school;
- Dress in a manner that communicates respect for oneself, the community and the process of learning;
- Respect the school buildings and property by keeping the campus attractive and litter free;
- When off campus, keep in mind that you represent yourself, your family, and the school while participating in trips, athletic and academic teams, performances and community service.

Because every individual is created b’tzelem elokim (in the image of G-d), our tradition asserts that each person has inherent value and must treat oneself and others with respect and dignity. All students are expected to observe the school’s standards and rules described in this handbook and those set forth and announced during the course of the school year.

Drug-Free Campus

The use, sale, or possession of drugs, tobacco (including “eCigarettes”), and alcohol is strictly prohibited on the Weber School campus or at an official school-related function. Violations of this rule will be considered according to the individual circumstances of each case. Penalties, imposed at the discretion of the Head of School, Principal, and Grade Level Dean could include immediate and permanent expulsion for a first offense. The School reserves the right to require drug testing or a treatment program as a condition of continued enrollment.

Honesty and Integrity

Dishonesty is contrary to the value of kulanu (respect for community). Therefore, it is expected that students will not engage in activities that violate truth and trust: lying and theft will not be tolerated. Instances of lying or theft could result in expulsion.

Inappropriate Language/Disparaging Remarks

Disparaging comments are serious offenses. Written (including those sent via text or other messaging platforms) or spoken remarks that harass, tease, or insult have no place in The Weber School community. Use of inappropriate, abusive or profane language will result in referral to Grade Level Dean for disciplinary review. A student who engages in repeated use of inappropriate language could be subject to suspension and/or expulsion as deemed appropriate.

Bullying/Harassment

The School is dedicated to fostering an environment that promotes kindness, acceptance, and embraces differences among individuals. Therefore, the School will not tolerate any type of harassment or bullying. Harassment includes, but is not limited to, slurs, jokes, comments, teasing, and other offensive conduct relating to race, religion, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, citizenship, or disability. Harassment also includes unwanted, offensive sexual conduct. Bullying includes, but is not limited to, physical or verbal aggression (hitting, kicking, taunting, teasing, threatening, ridiculing, etc.), relational aggression (harming or threatening to harm relationships or acceptance, friendship, or group inclusion), emotional aggression (teasing, threatening, intimidating others).

Bullying or harassment can occur through any type of communications method, including face-to-face communications, phone, text, email, postings on social media (Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat GroupMe, etc.), camera phones, or other forms of technology. The communications can be direct or indirect, such as through friends or others. Any type of offensive conduct, whether on or off campus, on a school bus, or at a school-related event, can create an uncomfortable School environment.

All concerns relating to harassment or bullying should be reported immediately to the Grade Level Dean. We also expect that anyone, whether student, faculty, staff or family member who witness, or has knowledge of an incident of bullying or harassment, will report the incident to administration immediately. When the School administration becomes aware of harassment or bullying, the situation will be promptly investigated. Any student found to have violated this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, including dismissal from school for serious violations. No adverse action will be taken against any person who makes a good faith report of harassment or bullying. Retaliation in any form against anyone for making a complaint under this policy or for participating in an investigation is strictly prohibited. Any retaliation should also be reported pursuant to this policy and is itself a cause for disciplinary action.

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism, a form of cheating, is the act of representing as one's own the work or ideas of another. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to:

- submitting as one's own essays or portions of essays written by other people, including commercially prepared research papers.
- failing to acknowledge through proper footnotes or endnotes and bibliographical entries the source of ideas essentially not one's own.
- failing to indicate, through proper use of quotations and footnotes or endnotes, paraphrases, ideas and verbatim expressions not one's own.
- submitting for one course an essay written for another course without having sought prior permission from both teachers.

Plagiarism and cheating are serious offenses. A student who plagiarizes or cheats on quizzes, tests, or exams or copies another student's work will be referred to the Principal and receive a zero for that particular work. In this event, the administration and parents will be informed, and the student will meet with the Principal for follow up. Repeated infractions of plagiarism or cheating will result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion from school. In cases of repeated infractions the offenses and disciplinary actions are recorded on a student's permanent disciplinary record, which is reported to colleges.

Weapons

Guns, knives, or other weapons are strictly prohibited on school property or at school-related functions. A student possessing a weapon will face disciplinary consequences up to and including expulsion from school, as well as possible police referral.

Search Privileges

The Weber School reserves the right to search lockers, personal belongings, and electronic devices given reasonable suspicion of behavior and/or actions that violate the policies set forth in the Student and Parent Handbook.

Consequences for Misconduct and Rules Violations

After committing an error of judgment or practice, one should engage in some form of teshuvah (returning) - the process of reflecting alone as well as with parents and teachers, seeking forgiveness and changing one's behavior. Different levels of teshuvah are necessary depending upon the nature of the error and the circumstances involved.

Behavioral Consequences

The Weber School firmly believes that penalties and consequences for improper conduct serve as a means to educate our students and discourage the repetition of such behaviors. Consequences and penalties for improper conduct may range from counsel with Grade Level Deans, service within the school (additional clean up duties, restricted lunch privileges, reflective essays, etc.), to more severe penalties such as suspension or expulsion should the behavior be antithetical to our school's mission and community beliefs. Illegal conduct may also be reported to law enforcement agencies. The administration reserves the right to use its discretion in determining appropriate penalties and consequences for all incidents of improper and/or inappropriate behavior. Reported incidents of such conduct will be reviewed on a case by case basis. The Grade Level Dean will serve as the primary point of contact regarding behavioral infractions and attendant consequences.

A student's behavioral and attendance records will be reported to other educational institutions at the time a student withdraws from The Weber School and to other organizations such as summer programs, prospective employers, and other appropriate agencies when requested. A student's behavioral and attendance records are also reported to colleges/universities as requested by the institution at any time during the college application process.

Suspension

Disciplinary suspension, the temporary removal of the student from class and extracurricular participation, is reserved for serious behavioral infractions. Parents will be notified of such action by one or more of the following venues: conference, written letter, and/or phone call to parent. Students issued an out-of-school-suspension are restricted from entering school property and are not permitted to attend or participate in any school related activities (athletics, extracurricular, social) during the time of the suspension. In addition, a student serving a suspension will earn a zero each for each missed assignment, such as tests, quizzes, homework, essays, daily participation grades, or school projects that fall due during the dates of the suspension.

Expulsion

The Weber School reserves the right to expel any student who is unable or unwilling to meet the expectations of our community, especially when the student's behavior constitutes a threat to himself/ herself or to others. The Head of School also reserves the right not to offer re-enrollment to any student who has displayed serious behavioral or academic issues during the school year.

Property Damage

Students who are found to have intentionally damaged or destroyed school property will be held responsible for all costs associated with the repair and restoration of the damaged item and/or areas to its previous condition. Additionally, these incidents may be reviewed by the Grade Level Deans in collaboration with the Principal and Head of School for disciplinary consequences including possible expulsion.

Operations

Emergency Procedures

The safety and security of our students is the primary concern of the school. To prepare for the possibility of a fire or a tornado occurring during school hours, fire and tornado evacuation drills will be conducted regularly during the school year. At the completion of the drill, the recall signal will be given. Students and faculty should not return to the building until this signal is given.

In the event of an actual emergency situation, emergency procedures will be implemented. If school cannot continue, then school personnel will contact parents or those parties listed in the school database. Students will only be released to those persons listed on official school forms.

Visitors to Campus

Students may not bring visitors to school without explicit permission from the Grade Level Dean or member of the school's administration. Students may be subject to disciplinary action for violating this policy.

Technology and Media

Copyright Compliance

Teachers and students are subject to all applicable copyright laws. "Fair Use" guidelines have been granted to educators and students for reproduction, adaptation, distribution, performance and display of media including the written word, audio visual works, sound recordings, graphics, computer software, and music. Computer software piracy is punishable as a felony and is considered a serious offense. "Piracy" is defined as illegal copying of computer software. Questions about the law and practice of copyright should be directed to the Media Specialist.

Student Technology - Acceptable Use Policy

Your following these Terms and Conditions is essential to the Weber School's ability to maintain and allow access to the Internet and provide you with other technology resources including but not limited to school computers, email accounts, research resources, and storage space. The school has the right to modify the Terms and Conditions to ensure that the access privileges are being used properly.

If any of these Terms and Conditions are not acceptable to you, you can choose to terminate your account by contacting school technology staff or school administration.

Guiding Principles

Students are expected to exercise good judgment when using technology resources. While specific prohibitions and examples of unacceptable behavior are contained in this policy, students should respect and practice community principles when using school technology:

- Communicate only in ways that are kind and respectful.
- Report threatening or discomfoting materials to a teacher.

- Do not intentionally access, transmit, copy or create material that violates the school's code of conduct or Jewish law (such as messages or materials that are false, pornographic, threatening, rude, discriminatory, or meant to harass).
- Do not send spam, chain letters, or other mass unsolicited mailings.
- Do not use obscene, profane, or lewd language.
- Do not use the school network to engage in any illegal act.
- Immediately leave any web site that is clearly inappropriate.
- Do not attempt to bypass restrictions on Internet sites by using a proxy server.

Acceptable Use

The purpose of the internet and related technology resources are to support research and education in and among academic institutions by providing access to unique resources and the opportunity for collaborative work. The use of your account must be in support of education and research and consistent with the school's educational objectives.

Privacy

Materials posted or distributed through The Weber School, the internet and email, may be read by any authorized person. We do not guarantee the privacy of any email message or other posting.

Privileges

The use of The Weber School technology resources should be considered a privilege, not a right, and as such, inappropriate use will result in a cancellation of this privilege and possibly further disciplinary action. Based upon the acceptable use guidelines outlined in this document, the system administrators will deem what is inappropriate use, and their decision is final. Also, the system administrators may close an account at any time for any reason, and their decision is final. The school administration may request the system administrator to deny, revoke, or suspend any user's accounts.

The Weber School Email Guidelines

All students are provided with a user@weberschool.org e-mail account. Important communications from the school will take place via e-mail, therefore students are required to check their school e-mail account daily. Accounts may be accessed at <http://mail.google.com/a/weberschool.org>.
